

HOW DO EU FEEL ABOUT BREXIT?

We caught up with Super Prime Rental Experts Phillips Harrod to find how the central and North West London high end of the market has been impacted. Director Adam Phillips comments that “on the morning after the vote we had two deals under offer (one at £3450pw and one at £2950pw) that started to wobble following the result. Within a few days of reassurance and guidance both deals were signed and the tenants moved in. I would say that this activity albeit only over a few days was indicative of how the market has reacted over the past few months. A little uncertain but essentially life moves on. We live in an uncertain world, who knows what the future holds but for now we're busy with enquires and will continue to service our clients and the demands of the market.”
